

Collect, analyze and transmit financial information

d-basics is a program that can collect, analyze and distribute financial information.

Collect

d-basics includes a large number of interfaces through which information is automatically imported from the database of a company's accounting program into d-basics.

Analyze

Additional modules can be added to d-basics. These modules provide easy to use management information or help to automate labor intensive administrative processes.

Distribute

The information collected by d-basics can be saved in various export formats. These export files can be used to send information to factoring companies, banks, credit managers etc.

Organizations

d-basics can be used to automatically transmit information to the following organizations or parties:

Banks and factoring companies

Create lists of outstanding amounts, pledge agreements and other financial reports and send these – in the correct format – to a bank or factoring company.

Financial Service providers

Send up-to-date debtor- and billing information to external credit managers, collection agencies or other financial service providers.

Tax authorities

Create digital VAT and ICT declarations and send these to the Dutch tax authorities.

Other software

Save information in the file format required by Bank account software (CLIEOP, Isabel), Credit management software, etc.

Debtors

Monitor your debtors payments and automatically send Reminders and warning notes.

Management, Board of commissioners, Participants

Create easy to use management information and send it to managers, Board of commissioners, Participants and other external parties.

Modular

d-basics is a modular program. Only the modules that have been purchased are activated. This allows to adjust the program's functionality to the users needs.

Quick and simple

Installing d-basics is a simple process that can be carried out by the user himself. Because the required installation files can be downloaded from the d-basics website, the program can be up and running within hours.

Support

d-basics is accompanied by detailed user documentation. Further d-basics users can consult the d-basics helpdesk. This helpdesk is equipped with various tools - such as remote desktop connection software – that help to locate and solve problems easily.

Demo

An evaluation copy of d-basics can be downloaded from the d-basics website. This demo version can be used to evaluate a number of modules, however the possibility to import information or send tax files has been disabled.

Subscription

d-basics is sold on a subscription basis. The height of the annual fee depends on the number of activated modules.
